The new path of water

Since 1970 our production experience and belief into development have become the basic story of KAS Armature since its foundation.

KAS Armature, which is one of the largest and most dynamic members of the Kayalar Group, is established for the design and production of battery, faucet, plumbing materials, bathroom by taking all the power and support of the past experience and the KAS family.

With our loyalty and commitment to our business, we set out to produce products that will reflect our customers' expectations and quality philosophy in the best way with our knowledge and experience from the past and to exhibit this to the whole world.

We believe, like in human life, in the importance of continuous development and the need for endless learning, we take place in the development of our corporate structure and products and we pay attention to research and development and corporate learning activities.

Protection of our world and our resources and avoiding waste constitute our basic environmental policy. In this sense, KAS Armature produces products that prioritize materials and processes that support less carbon emissions. We design and offer products that do not compromise comfort and aesthetics, but also incorporate savings and efficiency, in a way that supports the more economical and efficient use of our natural resources in our product development.

We offer, the products and services beyond the expectations without compromising from quality, to you. We are developing and growing together with you.

While designing KAS brand products, we take into account the compliance with human ergonomics. Our main goal is to integrate our products with the places where they are located and to bring aesthetic and vitality to these places.
